

Dr. Yi He
College of Food Science and Engineering,
Wuhan Polytechnic University

Yi He is lecturer in the College of Food Science and Engineering at the Wuhan Polytechnic University. His research interests are food fermentation and microbial secondary metabolites and their biosynthetic pathways. He studied Bioengineering for bachelor degree at Wuhan Institute of Technology. In 2010, he started his doctoral career in regard to biomolecular research of fungi with Prof. Fusheng Chen at Huazhong Agricultural University. 2013-2015, he moved to the Leibniz Universität Hannover in Germany for doctoral research in Biochemistry with Prof. Russell J. Cox, where his work led to the elucidation of citrinin gene cluster and its biosynthetic pathway. After received his PhD in 2015, he began his own research career at the Wuhan Polytechnic University. He has published journal papers on Chemical Science, Applied Microbiology and Biotechnology, Comprehensive Reviews in Food Science and Food Safety, Fungal Biology, etc.
